Stop Suffering BUTLER CASE

I will gladly give you a full dellar's worth of my remedy to test.

Solking to deposit. Hothing to prunise. The dellar bettle in free. Your Bruggist, on my orier, will hand you a fall dellar's worth and send me the bill.

No one clos has ever tried so hard to remove any possible ageuse for doubt. a: 33.000 communities—in more than a million index—my remedy is known. There are those all around you—your friends and neighbors, porhers—whose suffering it has relieved. There is not a physician anywhere who dares tell you is an wrong in the new medical principles which I epply. And for six solid years my remedy has allow the severest test a medicine was ever put to—I have said "If it falls it is free"—and it has never failed where there was a possible chance for it to succeed.

But this mountain of evidence is of no avail to those who shut their eyes and dose away in doubt. For doubt is harder to overcome than disease. I cannot cure those who lack the faith to try.

So now I have made this offer. I disregard the avidence. I lay aside the fact that mine is the largest medical practice in the world, and copie to you as a stranger. I ask you to believe not one word that I say till you have proven it for yourself. I offer to give you cutright a full college's worth of my remedy. It is the utmost top unbounded confidence can suggest. It is topen and frank and fair. It is the supreme test of my limitless belief in Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

Only one out of every ninety-eight has perfect I saith. Of the ninety-even sick once some are hed ridden, some are half sick, and some are notly dull and listless. But most of the sickness times from a common cause. The nerves are weak. Not the nerves you ordinarily think allout-not the nerves that govern your movements and your thoughts.

But the nerves that, unguided and unknown, right and day, keep your heart in motion-con-trol the digestive apparatus-regulate your liver-operate your kidneys. These are the nerves that worry wears out and work breaks down.

It does no good to treat the ailing organ—the irregular heart—the dissedered Bien—the relations attorach—the deranged kidneys. They are not to blame. But go back to the nerves that control them. There you will find the soat of the truthle.

There is nothing new about this—nothing any thread-in would dispute. But it remained for It. Shoop to apply this knowledge—to put it repractical use. By, shoop's Restorative is the result of a quarter century of endeaver along this very line. It does not does the organ or deaden the poin—but it does go at once to the torse—the indice nerve—the power nerve—ner.

Non't you see that THIS is NEW in medi-ne? That this is NOT the m re natchwork of a stimulant—the mere nothing of a narcottle? lead't you see that it goes right to the root of the trouble and eradicates the cause?

But I do not ask you to take a single state-ment of mine I do not ask you to believe a word I say until you have tried my noddetne in your own home at my expense shealutely. Could I offer you a full dellar's worth free if there were any micropresentation, cholid I let you not be your druggest whom you know- and pick out any better he has not bis shelves of my nodding were it not INFORMIX helpful! If Act Charged Is Felony Judge Foster Has No Jurisdiction-Sager's First Appear-

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 18.-The case of State ex rel. Et Butler vs. Judge Foster, the prohibition suit filed by Butler in the Supreme Court to test the validity of the indictment lodged against Butler charging him with bribing Charley Kelly, was argued to-day before the Supreme Court en bane, all the Judges being present excepting Judge Marshall. Mr. Sager made his first appearance be fore the Supreme Court as Circuit At-torney, and presented a brief argument in the case, the principal argument for the State being presented by A. C. Maroney, Folk's former assistant.

Butler was represented by Judge Chester H. Krum and General Thomas J. Rowe of St. Louis.

The question at issue is the construction of the statute under which Butler is indicted, and the controversy is as to whether under the statute the act charged is a misdemeanor or a felony. If a felony it is urged that the Circuit Judge will have no jurisdiction to try the case.

Judge Krum convulsed the Court at the close of his argument for Butler, by saying that should the Supreme Court fail to provide a remeily, his client would be forced to take refuge in a certain patent medicine, which is advertised as the universal human remedy.

The Supreme Court was in danger of losing its dignity for the moment, but Chief Justice Brace restored order by promptly calling the next case.

was one of the most iniquitous ever introduced in the Legislature of Arkansas.

Its provisions, he asserted, would mean the complete destruction of many business men of the State, would force hundreds of workingmen out of employment, and would be a blow to all laboring classes, from which they could not revive.

He could not take the stand of other Senators, he said, and vote for the measure, while at the same time believing it to be refarious.

"I am no prophet," declared the gentleman from Pulaski, "but I venture the prediction that if this bill is passed, throngs of good artisans of the State will come here before the end of the session, and ask that the bill be repealed."

In explanation of his vote against the bill, Senator Legate said that he believed it would do an irreparable injury to workingmen, and at the same time not be effective against any trust.
